Description: Anadarko Petroleum has ventured beyond its original area of operation -- the Anadarko Basin -- to explore for, develop, produce, and market oil, natural gas, and related products worldwide. The large independent oil and gas company has expanded significantly with the acquisition of fellow independent Union Pacific Resources, which has boosted Anadarko's proved reserves to 2.3 billion barrels of oil equivalent, evenly divided between crude oil and natural gas. More than half of the company's reserves are in the US (Alaska, Louisiana, Texas, the midcontinent and Rocky Mountain regions, and the Gulf of Mexico).

The Company is a defendant in a number of lawsuits and is involved in governmental proceedings arising in the ordinary course of business, including, but not limited to, royalty claims, contract claims and environmental claims. The Company has also been named as a defendant in various personal injury claims, including numerous claims by employees of third-party contractors alleging exposure to asbestos and benzene while working at a refinery in Corpus Christi, Texas, which Anadarko

Holding sold in segments in 1987 and 1989. While the ultimate outcome and impact on the Company cannot be predicted with certainty, management believes that the resolution of these proceedings will not have a material adverse effect on the consolidated financial position of the Company, although results of operations and cash flow could be significantly impacted in the reporting periods in which such matters are resolved. Discussed below are several specific proceedings.
